

WELCOME TO AUSTRIA

Austria is known worldwide for its breathtaking mountain landscapes and its cultural monuments, castles and museums. While Austria has always been very popular among wellness and ski buffs within the gay community, it was considered, however, to be rather conservative regarding its political stance in regard to homosexuality. With Austria's admission into the European Union in 1995, gay associations and liberal politicians received enormous support and the country is now becoming a more tolerant and liberal country.

WELCOME TO VIENNA

With 1.7 million inhabitants, Vienna is Austria's capital city for the gay community. In fact, every third homosexual in Austria lives in this metropolis on the Danube and estimates state that the gay community here is approximately 170,000 lesbians and gays. Vienna hosts a unique and world famous AIDS Benefit Event, called the Life Ball, which annually takes place in the city hall. Additionally, since 1996, Vienna's Rainbow Parade (i.e. Pride Festival), with over over 100,000 participants, now belongs to the one of the largest LGBT events across Europe.
